WILL TEST MEASURES

Sealer of Weights and Measures to Come Prepared

SELLERS ARE CAREFUL

Should the county sealer of weights and measures O. Evans Mikesell, visit Charleroi on Tuesday October 8, for the purpose of examining the measures and scales used by the farmers and gardeners at the curb market, it is quite possible that he may take occasion to make an inspection of the stores and business places of the town at the same time. He will in all probability bring his appliances for making the tests with him, and his visit here will make it convenient to inspect the business places at the same time.

Over at Washington it was noticed that immediately after Sealer Mikesell made an inspection at the curb market there Tuesday, there was a general discarding of old measures and a substitution of new ones among the stores and markets of the town. Several of the hardware stores displayed certified measures for sale in prominent places about their stores All the dealers, it is stated, are making efforts to get their scales and measures certified at the earliest possible moment. There was also a general discarding of the bottomless measure, which had been in use at some of the stores It was learned also that the use of the liquid quart measure for a dry quart has also been in use, but this will now be abolished.

In order that local dealers may be prepared for the inspection of Sealer Mikesell, whenever he does come, the following official standards of weights and measures are given:

Liquid Measures.

1 gallon cantains 231 cu. in
1-2 gallon contains 115.5 cu. in.
1 quart contains 57.75 cu. in.
1 pint contains 28.875 cu. in.
1-2 pint contains 14.437 cu. in.
1 gill contains 7.218 cu. in.
1 fluid oz. contains 1.804 cu. in.
1 dram contains .225 cu. in.

Dry Measure.

1 bushel contains 2150.42 cu. in.
1-2 bushel contains 1075.21 cu in
1 peck contains 537.60 cu. in.
1-2 peck contains 268.80 cu in.
1-4 peck contains 134.40 cu. in.
1 quart contains 67.20 cu. in.
1 pint contains 33.60 cu. in.
1-2 pint contains 16.80 cu. in.

By making their scales and measures comply with these specifications local dealers will have nothing to fear from the inspection. It is to establish a standard that the inspection will be made and all will be required to comply with the regulations.

Come, unravel a yarn ball,

Spike Rumor of Big Deal

Clark Farm Not Sold Says Mellons in Response to Railroad Inquiry

From a letter which E. F. Krahmer, local P. R. R. agent, has just received from District Freight Solicitor W. B. Mitchell of the Pittsburg office of the railroad, it seems that the rumor of the purchase of the Clark farm above Charleroi by an English syndicate is talk and nothing more. It was stated last week that the Clark farm had been purchased from the Mellon interests with the view of locating a big iron and steel plant there. Mr. Mitchell states in his letter that representatives of the railroad had taken the trouble to interview the Mellons on the matter and that the Mellons had spiked the rumor.

It is admittedly the purpose of the present owners of the Clark farm to hold it for some kind of an industry When it was purchased several years ago it was considered an excellent site for a steel mill. Rapidly the available steel sites are being taken upon along the Monongahela valley ,so that there are but few good locations left. The Clark farm is one of them. Another place that would be good for a steel mill is a site along the river near Courtney, which it is stated like the Clark farm is being held for a big plant.

Branding the rumor of the sale of the Clark farm as false, the Mellons have also asked the railroad company to deny the story to anyone referring to them.

PROSPERITY REIGNS

In its survey of the political situation, the Pittsburg Gazette Times says the following under date line of Charleroi:

"The home community of Gov. John K. Tener will not go back on the Republican party at the fall election. Republicans are working quietly along the Monongahela valley, but are accomplishing results. Later Republican clubs will be formed. Always a Republican stronghold, there is no reason to believe that there will be a change. The Progressive sentiment is not pronounced enough to cause the slightest commotion.

"Thinking folks regard as a good omen the unusual prosperity in the industrial district of which Charleroi is the center. Not for years has it been so hard for employers to secure labor. Road builders for the state and contractors generally state that they are paying better wages than ever before and still not getting enough men to work. Practically all the coal mines are running to full capacity and the big steel and glass mills are operating to their fullest. At Donora and Monessen the mills are

COLONEL COMING

Asserted by Party Leaders He Will Make Trip Up Valley

TO STOP AT CHARLEROI

Leaders of the Bull Moose party are making efforts to have their candidate for President, Col Theodore Roosevelt make a trip up the Monongahela valley, when he pays Pittsburg a visit after the close of the Exposition. He is to pay a visit to McKeesport one day. It is stated that it is very probable that the Colonel will include the Monongahela valley in his campaign territory.

It is said a trip up the Monongahela valley as far as Brownsville will be made during a morning that will include stops at Homestead, Duquesne, Clairton, Elizabeth, Monongahela, Donora, Charleroi and Brownsville.

The return trip will include brief stops at Belle Vernon, Monessen and Glassport. He will reach McKeesport about 5 o'clock in the evening and make an address near the Baltimore and Ohio depot at the time the men are coming and going from work in the tube works.

WHEREVER there is people there's opportunity. In Charleroi there are approximately 10,000 people. These people have all wants to fill, which can be amplified and expanded. Much of this trade is scattered. Some of it goes to nearby towns, and much of it goes to Pittsburg, Suppose each store in town started out with a determination to do $1,000 more business next year that it has been averaging in the past. Most stores could handle this amount without any increase in their operating expenses.

Advertising and publicity require persistent hammering. A few yelps attract no attention, but the dog that bays the moon gets the whole neighborhood to going.

DOG BITE SERIOUS

Monessen Girl Suffering--Canine Afflicted With Rabies

MAY QUARANTINE TOWN

The little daughter of Robert McLanahan of Monessen is suffering from the effects of a bite by what is declared by State authorities to have been a mad dog. Snarling and snapping the dog, a small animal, made its way through the streets of Monessen Monday. It bit the little girl on the wrist and attacked other dogs, also tearing at the trousers of several men. The dog was finally killed.

Dr. M. E. Griffith who dressed the wounds of the child also sent the head of the dog to Harrisburg. He received word Wednesday afternoon that the animal was afflicted with rabies. It is probable that a general quarantine will be declared in Monessen.

FOURTEEN SPEND 50 YEARS IN WORK IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

To those persons who have served in the capacity of officer or teacher and who are now residing in Pennsylvania medals of honor will be presented at the State Sunday School convention to be held in Philadelphia October 2-11.

Three of the 14 who have rounded out a half century's work as a Sunday school officer or teacher reside in Canonsburg. They are J. W. H. To Present Legislation

State Organization Sealers of Weights and Measures to Seek Better Laws

Immediate work of drafting of bills to meet the recommendations of the newly-formed association of sealers of weights and measures of Pennsylvania is to be undertaken at Harrisburg, and they will probably be among the earliest presented at the next session of the Legislature.

James Sweeney, chief of the State bureau of standards has outlined the changes in the laws, which will include provision for summary conviction and make mandatory the appointment of sealers in all cities and counties, and they will be sent to the State Legislative Reference Bureau to be put into shape.

The sealers will have a Legislative committee there to explain their measures when the time comes, and one of the features will be an exhibit of confiscated measures and weights, together with scales for the benefit of lawmakers.

SUNDAY A HOLIDAY

Rev. McMasters Says Day is Better Observed Now Than Formerly

STEEL MILLS SUSPEND

Rev. W. H. McMasters of Blairsville a representative of the Lord's Day Alliance in the United States lectured before a good sized audience at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church Wednesday evening on the subject of "The Lords Day and Its Perpetuation." Appearing under auspices of the various Protestant churches of the town, he created a deep impression, showing the modern tendencies in the observance of the Sabbath day and telling the hope for the future observance.

One of the greatest movements for the observance of Sunday, according to Rev. McMaster was that of the government, which has discontinued Sunday work to as great an extent as possible in its postoffices. He stated that the government would go farther in the work. Rev. McMaster told of the great Bethlehem Steel works near Philadelphia and the Lukins Iron plant at Coatesville shutting down their plants on Sunday.

The speaker gave a synopsis of what the government is doing, and of the great influence of the Lord's Day Alliance He said the place of the church was in the forefront in the fight in the interests of the laboring man. Speaking of the county Church Federation which is to be formed today at Washington, he said that it would be an organization for the good of the community and hoped that it would work hand in hand with the Lord's Day Alliance.

WARNING TO BANKS

Detective Agency Advises to Guard Against Raised Checks

CRIMINALS AT WORK

Local banks are in receipts of a circular letter from William J. Burns Detective Agency, representing the American Bankers Association, warning them and their depositors to be on their guard against fraudulent making out of checks. Because of recent efforts of criminals in the Monongahela valley the subject has a peculiar interest.

The agency warns depositors in the following respects: In writing and issuing checks, to take care in writing the amounts leaving no space that may be filled in by someone wishing to "raise" the check; care of blank checks; all checks should be kept under lock and key until issued; checking bank balances; balances should be checked over carefully as soon as pass book is returned by the bank with cancelled checks.

Both firms and individual depositors are suffering, according to the detective agency. Something like $15,000,000 yearly is made on bad checks alone, it is stated in this state.

LOCAL COUPLE WEDDED AT NORTH CHARLEROI

Miss Emma E. Sickles, a well known young woman of North Charleroi and Lewis Clifford Marchand, of Charleroi, were quietly married at the home of a friend at North Charleroi at 7 o'clock Wednesday. Rev. E. G. Stanley, pastor of the First Baptist church performed the ceremony. The couple left on a wedding trip to be gone about two weeks. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping at Monongahela.

Mr. Marchand is wire chief for the Bell Telephone company at Monongahela. He was formerly the wire chief at the Charleroi office of the company.

FOREIGNERS FAIL TO INTERPRET LAWS

That many foreigners are ignorant of the game laws of the state and the penalty for violating same is evidenced by the fact that within the past 30 days State Game Warden Joseph Kennedy of Monongahela, has arrested between 30 and 40 persons, charged with keeping red birds, doves, larks, and other birds in captivity. The penalty for the offense is $10 for each and every bird

BEGIN NOW.

The curb market in Charleroi and elsewhere has demonstrated that farming pays. It is shown that it pays in thevicinity of Charleroi as well as in the most favored garden spots of the world. One of the most essential requisites in farming is a nearby market, which is right here all the time. What is necessary now is for more and better farming in the community.

There has been talk of an effort to largely increase the farming area in this vicinity. This is essential and the proper time to begin this effort is right now. A lot of preparation must always be made inventuring into new fields and starting in new enterprises, and what is done at this particular time will greatly advance operations next year. All the essentials for more and better farming seem to be at hand. There is a big lot of unproductive land, many people who could apply their labor and time profitably and abundance of good fertilizer to be had for the taking. Add to this one of the best markets in the world—thousands of people who have to buy everything they consume from somewhat and it would seem that opportunity never knocked more persistently and harder than at this particular time.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

From the Mobile Register, a leading Wilson paper in Alabama, appears the following, which reflects the attitude of the Democracy of the South on pensions:

"The Confederate armies or less than 600,000 all told have caused, even after the lapse of 45 years, more men on the pension roll claiming to be victims of the Confederate fighters than were actually in the front in the Confederate forces. This does not account the thousands that have reluctantly died and given up the pensions or the thousands who never got to the pension roll and the thousands who died from wounds or on the field of battle.

"It is a good thing for us all the war did not last another year. If the deadly Confederates had persisted in fighting, the wealth of the world would not be able to pay the pensions that at the present rate of granting would have been given to the Federals, their allies, sympathizers, widdows, real and bogus, bounty jumpers, camp followers, and the whole hungry horde anxious to dip into the public till."

This article was handed to the Mail by a Civil War veteran of Charleroi. It is only another argument why old soldiers should stick to the party that had taken care of the widows and ophans as well as the soldiers who preserved the Union.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A man prominent in the politics of the State relates that at a recent confab in Washington the assertion was made that colored people had longer memories than white people, and to prove it, a member of the party told the following story:

"Some years ago," he said, "I was traveling through the south, when I met an old colored man who claimed to have known George Washington. I asked him if he was present when Washington crossed the Delaware. Instantly the old fellow replied:

"'Lor, massa, I was in de boat with Washington, an' I done steered dat boat myself.'

"'Well,' said I, 'do you remember when George took the hack at the cherry tree?'

"He looked worried a minute, and then, with a beautiful smile, said:

"'Why, suah, massa, I done drove dat hack myself.'"

A certain man with a great propensity for public speaking, managed to get elected to a position where he had ample opportunity todisplay such talent as he had in that line. He imagined he had the gift of oratory, and never lost the occasion to inflict some of it upon an audience. Soaring to what he termed "transcendent heights" of oratory, he unwittingly got his metaphors mixed frequently. Making a speech before a gathering one day on a much discussed question, he sailed merrily into untried fields and brought forth the following, very dramatically and very emphatically:

"Mr. Chairman, I smell a rat: I see him floating in the air: I shall nip him in the bud. Mr. Chairman, I shall extinguish that rat."

He was forced by the outburst of laughter to take his seat, and until today cannot fathom the cause of his sudden interruption.

ALTOONA SCENE OF BIG GATHERING

With Governor John K. Tener as a leading figure in the celebration, the [illegible] anniversary of the meeting in Altoona of Loyal Governors in the Civil War Wednesday attracted nation wide attention. It was President's day and President Taft accompanied by his military aide, Major Rhodes, was in attendance.

Altoona was bedecked with flags and bunting. In the hotel corridors crowds of army officers in full dress uniforms were conspicious. Events of the day were a big procession of regular army men, the National Guard of Pennsylvania and organizations of veterans of the Civil war and the marching of hundreds of children of the public and parochial schools in review before the president and other big officials.

The parade was led by the famous Marine Band of Washington and included the 13th Coast Artillery of Fort Dupont, Del.

Then followed a meeting attended by thousands in a tent provided for the occasion. The program included patriotic music and speeches. Governor John K. Tener of Pennsylvania made an address and was chosen presiding officer. The big feature was the address of President Taft. The oration of the day was delivered by Dr. Edwin Erie Sparks, president of the Pennsylvania State college.

When the president finished his speech he returned to his private car and started on the return trip to Beverly, where he expected to arrive this morning.

The president was given a cordial reception by the thousands along the line of the parade attracted to the city by the celebration.

One deplorable thing about gratitude in politics is the lack of it.

"Congressman Charles Matthews representing the Twenty-fourth District, made his first trip to this community and was struck by the great sentiment for the Taft ticket. Congressman Matthews is one of the most popular men on the Republican ticket in this county and many Progressives voting the balance of their own ticket will slice in his favor. Everywhere that he has gone says Congressman Matthews. he has found the sentiment strong for Taft."

BURGETTSTOWN FAIR THE NEXT

The next and last attraction in the fair line in Washington county will be held at Burgettstown next week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. October 1, 2 and 3. All arrangements have been completed for the 57th annual exhibition and President H. S. Buchanan and Secretary D. S. Taylor state that the prospects are very flattering for a first class exhibition even better than that of other years.

The livestock show promises to be excellent as already many entries have been made. Entries in the livestock department close Saturday evening, Sept. 28 at 6 o'clock. Entries in all other departments close at 4 o'clock the first day of the fair.

The poultry show at Burgettstown has always been a feature and this year it promises to be larger and better than ever. It will be conducted on a different plan this season as the rules of the big winter show will govern the exhibit.

The premiums in the speed department amount to $1,500. The track is in excellent shape and some good steppers have been entered. Three races will be pulled off each day of the fair.

It is a regular harvest home picnic gathering and many family reunions are held each year at the Burgettstown fair. This year promises to be no exception in this line. Outside of this home gathering feature Burgettstown will have one of the best exhibitions it has had in years in all lines.

CATTLE CROSSING OVER IRRIGATING CANAL

HOME and social life in Northern California is the most pleasant because there are more bright days than in Southern Italy, and there is every convenience for bringing people together.

FARMS in the Sacramento Valley produce many more times net profit to the acre than Eastern farms because the soil is the best, sun shines every day, and there is plenty of good water for irrigating, with proper drainage.

ORANGES, potatoes, alfalfa and all fruits, grains, grasses and vegetables mature earlier in Northern California than in any part of the world.

STOCK and POULTRY are easier to raise and produce more because the climate is healthful and green feed grows in abundance.

MARKETS are very near, with cheap railroad and river transportation, making financial success sure.

If interested, we urge you to write us today and learn of people who are making big money there now.

Let us know what you wish most to be informed about and get an instructive reply.

Don't delay, every day now sees new settlers moving on this land, as it is ready for seed, and the best farms go first.

WHERE DOCTORS FAILED TO HELP

Covington, Mo.—"Your medicine has done me more good than all the doctor's medicines. At every monthly period I had to stay in bed four days because of hemorrhages, and my back was so weak I could hardly walk. I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I can stay up and do my work. I think it is the best medicine on earth for women." —Mrs. JENNIE GREEN, Covington, Mo.

How Mrs. Cline Avoided Operation.

Brownsville, Ind.—"I can say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me more good than anything else. One doctor said I must be operated upon for a serious female trouble and that nothing could help me but an operation.

"I had hemorrhages and at times could not get any medicine to stop them. I got in such a weak condition that I would have died if I had not got relief soon.

"Several women who had taken your Compound, told me to try it and I did and found it to be the right medicine to build up the system and overcome female troubles.

"I am now in great deal better health than I ever expected to be, so I think I ought to thank you for it."—Mrs. O. M. CLINE, S. Main St., Brownsville, Ind.

THE CHARLEROI MAIL

WILL TEST MEASURES

Sealer of Weights and Measures to Come Prepared

SELLERS ARE CAREFUL

Should the county sealer of weights and measures O Evans Mikesell, visit Charleroi on Tuesday October 8, for the purpose of examining the measures and scales used by the farmers and gardeners at the curb market, it is quite possible that he may take occasion to make an inspection of the stores and business places of the town at the same time He will in all probability bring his appliances for making the tests with him, and his visit here will make it convenient to inspect the business places at the same time

Over at Washington it was noticed that immediately after Sealer Mikesell made an inspection at the curb market there Tuesday, there was a general discarding of old measures and a substitution of new ones among the stores and markets of the town. Several of the hardware stores displayed certified measures for sale in prominent places about their stores All the dealers, it is stated, are making efforts to get their scales and measures certified at the earliest possible moment. There was also a general discarding of the bottomless measure, which had been in use at some of the stores It was learned also that the use of the liquid quart measure for a dry quart has also been in use, but this will now be abolished.

In order that local dealers may be prepared for the inspection of Sealer Mikesell, whenever he does come, the following official standards of weights and measures are given:

Liquid Measures.

1 gallon contains 231 cu. in
1-2 gallon contains 115.5 cu. in.
1 quart contains 57 75 cu. in.
1 pint contains 28.875 cu. in.
1-2 pint contains 14 437 cu. in.
1 gill contains 7 218 cu. in.
1 fluid oz. contains 1.804 cu. in.
1 dram contains .225 cu. in.

Dry Measure.

1 bushel contains 2150 42 cu. in.
1-2 bushel contains 1075.21 cu in
1 peck contains 537.60 cu. in.
1-2 peck contains 268 80 cu in.
1-4 peck contains 134.40 cu. in.
1 quart contains 67.20 cu. in.
1 pint contains 33.60 cu. in.
1-2 pint contains 16.80 cu. in.

By making their scales and measures comply with these specifications local dealers will have nothing to fear from the inspection. It is to establish a standard that the inspection will be made and all will be required to comply with the regulations.

Come, unravel a yarn ball,
Come with a dime for a good time,

Spike Rumor of Big Deal

From a letter which E. F. Krahmer, local P. R. R. agent, has just received from District Freight Solicitor W. B. Mitchell of the Pittsburg office of the railroad, it seems that the rumor of the purchase of the Clark farm above Charleroi by an English syndicate is talk and nothing more It was stated last week that the Clark farm had been purchased from the Mellon interests with the view of locating a big iron and steel plant there Mr. Mitchell states in his letter that representatives of the railroad had taken the trouble to interview the Mellons on the matter and that the Mellons had spiked the rumor

It is admittedly the purpose of the present owners of the Clark farm to hold it for some kind of an industry When it was purchased several years ago it was considered an excellent site for a steel mill. Rapidly the available steel sites are being taken upon along the Monongahela valley, so that there are but few good locations left. The Clark farm is one of them. Another place that would be good for a steel mill is a site along the river near Courtney, which it is stated like the Clark farm is being held for a big plant.

Branding the rumor of the sale of the Clark farm as false, the Mellons have also asked the railroad company to deny the story to anyone referring to them.

PROSPERITY REIGNS

In its survey of the political situation, the Pittsburg Gazette Times says the following under date line of Charleroi:

"The home community of Gov. John K. Tener will not go back on the Republican party at the fall election. Republicans are working quietly along the Monongahela valley, but are accomplishing results. Later Republican clubs will be formed. Always a Republican stronghold, there is no reason to believe that there will be a change. The Progressive sentiment is not pronounced enough to cause the slightest commotion.

"Thinking folks regard as a good omen the unusual prosperity in the industrial district of which Charleroi is the center. Not for years has it been so hard for employers to secure labor. Road builders for the state and contractors generally state that they are paying better wages than ever before and still not getting enough men to work. Practically all the coal mines are running to full capacity and the big steel and glass mills are operating to their fullest. At Donora and Monessen the mills are

WHEREVER there is people there's opportunity. In Charleroi there are approximately 10,000 people. These people have all wants to fill, which can be amplified and expanded. Much of this trade is scattered. Some of it goes to nearby towns, and much of it goes to Pittsburg, Suppose each store in town started out with a determination to do $1,000 more business next year that it has been averaging in the past. Most stores could handle this amount without any increase in their operating expenses.

Advertising and publicity require persistent hammering. A few yelps attract no attention, but the dog that bays the moon gets the whole neighborhood to going.

SUNDAY A HOLIDAY

Rev. McMasters Says Day is Better Observed Now Than Formerly

STEEL MILLS SUSPEND

Rev W. H. McMasters of Blairsville a representative of the Lord's Day Alliance in the United States lectured before a good sized audience at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church Wednesday evening on the subject of "The Lords Day and Its Perpetuation." Appearing under auspices of the various Protestant churches of the town, he created a deep impression, showing the modern tendencies in the observance of the Sabbath day and telling the hope for the future observance.

One of the greatest movements for the observance of Sunday, according to Rev. McMaster was that of the government, which has discontinued Sunday work to as great an extent as possible in the postoffices. He stated that the government would go farther in the work Rev. McMaster told of the great Bethlehem Steel works near Philadelphia and the Lukens Iron plant at Coatesville shutting down their plants on Sunday.

The speaker gave a synopsis of what the government is doing, and of the great influence of the Lord's Day Alliance He said the place of the church was in the forefront in the fight in the interests of the laboring man. Speaking of the county Church Federation which is to be formed today at Washington, he said that it would be an organization for the good of the community and hoped that it would work hand in hand with the Lord's Day Alliance.

BEGIN NOW.

The curb market in Charleroi and elsewhere has demonstrated that farming pays. It is shown that it pays in the vicinity of Charleroi as well as in the most favored garden spots of the world. One of the most essential requisites in farming is a nearby market, which is right here all the time. What is necessary now is for more and better farming in the community.

There has been talk of an effort to largely increase the farming area in this vicinity. This is essential and the proper time to begin this effort is right now. A lot of preparation must always be made inventuring into new fields and starting in new enterprises, and what is done at this particular time will greatly advance operations next year. All the essentials for more and better farming seem to be at hand. There is a big lot of unproductive land, many people who could apply their labor and time profitably and abundance of good fertilizer to be had for the taking. Add to this one of the best markets in the world—thousands of people who have to buy everything they consume from somewhat and it would seem that opportunity never knocked more persistently and harder than at this particular time.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

From the Mobile Register, a leading Wilson paper in Alabama, appears the following, which reflects the attitude of the Democracy of the South on pensions:

"The Confederate armies or less than 600,000 all told have caused, even after the lapse of 45 years, more men on the pension roll claiming to be victims of the Confederate fighters than were actually in the front in the Confederate forces. This does not account the thousands that have reluctantly died and given up the pensions or the thousands who never got to the pension roll and the thousands who died from wounds or on the field of battle.

"It is a good thing for us all the war did not last another year. If the deadly Confederates had persisted in fighting, the wealth of the world would not be able to pay the pensions that at the present rate of granting would have been given to the Federals, their allies, sympathizers, widows, real and bogus, bounty jumpers, camp followers, and the whole hungry horde anxious to dip into the public till."

This article was handed to the Mail by a Civil War veteran of Charleroi. It is only another argument why old soldiers should stick to the party that had taken care of the widows and orphans as well as the soldiers who preserved the Union.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A man prominent in the politics of the State relates that at a recent confab in Washington the assertion was made that colored people had longer memories than white people, and to prove it, a member of the party told the following story:

"Some years ago," he said, "I was traveling through the south, when I met an old colored man who claimed to have known George Washington. I asked him if he was present when Washington crossed the Delaware. Instantly the old fellow replied:

"'Lor, massa, I was in de boat with Washington, an' I done steered dat boat myself.'

"'Well,' said I, 'do you remember when George took the hack at the cherry tree?'

"He looked worried a minute, and then, with a beautiful smile, said:

"'Why, suah, massa, I done drove dat hack myself.'"

A certain man with a great propensity for public speaking, managed to get elected to a position where he had ample opportunity to display such talent as he had in that line. He imagined he had the gift of oratory, and never lost the occasion to inflict some of it upon an audience. Soaring to what he termed "transcendent heights" of oratory, he unwittingly [illegible] frequently. Making a speech before a gathering one day on a much discussed question, he sailed merrily into untried fields and brought forth the following, very dramatically and very emphatically:

"Mr. Chairman, I smell a rat; I see him floating in the air; I shall nip him in the bud. Mr. Chairman, I shall extinguish that rat."

He was forced by the outburst of laughter to take his seat, and until today cannot fathom the cause of his sudden interruption.

ALTOONA SCENE OF BIG GATHERING

With Governor John K. Tener as a leading figure in the celebration, the 50th anniversary of the meeting in Altoona of Loyal Governors in the Civil War Wednesday attracted nation-wide attention. It was President's day and President Taft accompanied by his military aide, Major Rhodes, was in attendance.

Altoona was bedecked with flags and bunting. In the hotel corridors crowds of army officers in full dress uniforms were conspicuous. Events of the day were a big procession of regular army men, the National Guard of Pennsylvania and organizations of veterans of the Civil war and the marching of hundreds of children of the public and parochial schools in review before the president and other big officials.

The parade was led by the famous Marine Band of Washington and included the 13th Coast Artillery of Fort D[illegible]

When the president finished his speech he returned to his private car and started on the return trip to Beverly, where he expected to arrive this morning.

"Congressman Charles Matthews representing the Twenty-fourth District, made his first trip to this community and was struck by the great sentiment for the Taft ticket. Congressman Matthews is one of the most popular men on the Republican ticket in this county and many Progressives voting the balance of their own ticket will slice in his favor. Everywhere that he has gone says Congressman Matthews, he has found the sentiment strong for Taft."

If you don't know much about California Homes and you owe it to yourself to learn

NOW!

HOME and social life in Northern California is the most pleasant because there are more bright days than in Southern Italy, and there is every convenience for bringing people together.

FARMS in the Sacramento Valley produce many more times net profit to the acre than Eastern farms because the soil is the best, sun shines every day, and there is plenty of good water for irrigating, with proper drainage.

ORANGES, potatoes, alfalfa and all fruits, grains, grasses and vegetables mature earlier in Northern California than in any part of the world.

STOCK and POULTRY are easier to raise and produce more because the climate is healthful and green feed grows in abundance.

MARKETS are very near, with cheap railroad and river transportation, making financial success sure.

If interested, we urge you to write us today and learn of people who are making big money there now.

Let us know what you wish most to be informed about and get an instructive reply.

Don't delay, every day now sees new settlers moving on this land, as it is ready for seed, and the best farms go first.

The livestock show promises to be excellent as already many entries have been made Entries in the livestock department close Saturday evening, Sept. 28 at 6 o'clock. Entries in all other departments close at 4 o'clock the first day of the fair.

The poultry show at Burgettstown has always been a feature and this year it promises to be larger and better than ever. It will be conducted on a different plan this season as the rules of the big winter show will govern the exhibit

The premiums in the speed department amount to $1,500. The track is in excellent shape and some good steppers have been entered. Three races will be pulled off each day of the fair.

It is a regular harvest home picnic gathering and many family reunions are held each year at the Burgettstown fair. This year promises to be no exception in this line. Outside of this home gathering feature Burgettstown will have one of the best exhibitions it has had in years in all lines.

At every monthly period I had to stay in bed four days because of hemorrhages, and my back was so weak I could hardly walk. I have been taking Lydia E. How Mrs. Cline Avoided Operation.

Brownsville, Ind.—"I can say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me more good than anything else. One doctor said I must be operated upon for a serious female trouble and that nothing could help me but an operation.

"I had hemorrhages and at times could not get any medicine to stop them. I got in such a weak condition that I would have died if I had not got relief soon.

"Several women who had taken your Compound, told me to try it and I did and found it to be the right medicine to build up the system and overcome female troubles.

"I am now in great deal better health than I ever expected to be, so I think I ought to thank you for it."—Mrs O. M. CLINE, S. Main St., Brownsville, Ind.
